VOL. 5.—NO. 279

THE OPPORTUNITY IS WONDERFUL

MANY LADIES OF GREENCASTLE AND SURROUNDING TOWNSHIPS ARE ALREADY IN THE $1200 PRIZE SUBSCRIPTION CONTEST—AMBITIOUS WOMEN SHOULD START AT ONCE

THREE SEPARATE DISTRICTS

To begin piling up the votes in The Herald's Contest means the laying of a foundation for a grand prize. The Herald is going to distribute among the successful contestants prizes the value of $1200.00.

And the only requirement of you to share in the wonderful distribution is that you have the largest number of ballots credited to your name.

There is a present for YOU—possibly one of those pleasure giving pianos—in this stupendous array of riches.

But if YOU want one of these splendid rewards you must show your desire for them, and your deserving of them by getting into the mammoth contest.

The contest is open to YOU if you are eligible under the rules, and as only attaches of The Herald and their families are barred from taking part in this colossal enterprise the contest is practically open to every lady in Greencastle and Putnam County.

If YOU are on the other slope of life here is an opportunity to make ample provision for your declining days.

With a piano all your own the remainder of life would take on a rosier hue and be worth the living—free from care and worry.

If you are energetic and ambitious, here is the golden opportunity to lay the foundation for a grand prize.

Besides YOU become a person of affluence by owning your own piano. It is the open sesame to further accumulation of wealth, and as you go among your friends a property owner you are accorded a respect that is a wonderful source of satisfaction and contentment.

Why you may have planned to work for years to accomplish this very ambition, and here is an opportunity to accomplish it in a few weeks and without the risk of a penny investment.

It is a Grand Free Offer.

It is an amazing wondrous offer, but it is bona fide and it is for YOU. Or at least if you get to work and work with a will in the contest YOU can make it YOUR opportunity. You can appreciate this great offer right to yourself.

And with such supreme joy as wealth and independence brings, it should be your aim to work with might and main at the task of gathering in the wonderful little Herald subscription ballots that mean so much to every one in the contest when they are counted in the end.

The attaining of a Hamilton Piano would mean a better and brighter home, and the earning of this present in itself would be a worthy task.

Then there is the ownership of a Diamond Ring as another prospect. Then there are the nine District Prizes. No matter what district YOU live in you have an opportunity of winning one of those $400 pianos. And they are pianos of fine make and great cost.

Many Fine Pianos.

Either of these pianos would be an adequate reward for the time and energy expended in this contest by ANY contestant, and with the bright prospect of winning before you all the time and there are other prizes awaiting YOU if you fall in gaining the piano, surely the contest must appeal to your ambition.

Then there are the three bed room suits of furniture. Any one of these suits would help to brighten and beautify your home and add to the happiness of YOUR home. The complete and nicely furnished home is the pride of every woman, and YOU can make your wife sister or mother proud of her home by placing one of these fine and costly suits of furniture within that home.

Were the prizes ordinary affairs you could not be blamed for letting this contest go if your time is limited, but no matter how busy YOU are, with such golden prospects this contest should hold YOUR attention.

YOU may never again in your life have an opportunity as BIG as gigantic in its possibilities as this one. Why the size of the prizes fairly staggers one, but don't let the immensity of the contest frighten you.

Don't Have Faint Heart.

Faint heart ne'er won—so go after these mammoth prizes with all your energy. Invest every spare moment in this wonderful contest, and every mile of your energy left from your daily tasks.

You need not slight your work, or your regular tasks. Just organize your friends and relatives into a big army of ballot collectors and have a systematic way of gathering in the ballots. Devise any way you possibly can to secure the ballots.

The thing is to GET STARTED IN THE CONTEST.

Announce RIGHT AWAY to your friends and relatives that YOU are in this mammoth contest, and enlist the aid of these people before some energetic contestant does so ahead of you.

The condition of the little son of Judge and Mrs. James P. Hughes, who last week was critically ill, is much improved and is every day regaining its lost strength.

LIVED 82 YEARS IN SAME HOUSE

BORN IN 1829, ON A MARION TOWNSHIP FARM, GEO. V. SMYTHE, HAS ALWAYS FOUND IT GOOD ENOUGH TO "TIE TO"—TELLS OF PIONEER DAYS.

A PIONEER NEIGHBOR, TOO

[BY A FRIEND.] "I wonder it held together and answered till today, but every individual log, was put up there to stay."

(—Will Carlton) In just a house as this that Geo. V. Smythe first saw the light of day in the year of 1829. In hale affection and hearty humor, he continues to reside in this house on the farm, which in all the years, which have come in and gone over, has never changed hands. Besides caring for and educating orphan brothers and sisters left in his care, he is the father of twelve children, all of which grew to manhood and womanhood, and have gone out to take their places in the ranks of life.

Mr. Smythe is in fine health, and time has scarcely left its imprint on his old face; he is in possession of all his faculties, is a close and careful reader and thoroughly conversant on all the current topics of the day. He remembers and delights in telling of the long ago, when the now thriving City of Greencastle was only a hamlet; when there was only one man living there who could afford to own a buggy and in order to confer a high honor on the owner and to distinguish him from all others he was called "Buggy Dixy." That name in these days of college yells and schoolboy slang would not be considered complimentary, I am afraid.

Mr. Smythe worked for $10.00 a month from the time the ground was broken, until the topping out of the last chimney on the old court house and tells many little stories connected there with which are of unusual interest to those whose memories reach not back to the dim and misty past.

Mr. Smythe is the oldest brother of the late Dr. Smythe, who grew to manhood in this same log house, situated on this same rock-ribbed farm, among the hills, three miles from the city of Greencastle.

Adjacent to the above mentioned farm on the east, lives another pioneer, Mr. John B. Christy, who has passed his 90th mile post. For 85 years he has continuously resided on this farm, coming in his 5th year with his parents from Virginia, and locating there. Mr. Christy is the father of eleven children, nine of whom are living. He has suffered much in the last few years with failing eyesight, but, aside from that, he is in exceptionally fine health for one of his years. Always honorable and upright in all things he has bravely borne the burdens of life, casting up the highway and gathering into the stones, that his children might inherit the promise. He believes in the Fatherhood of God, and the brotherhood of mankind, and in the lengthening shadows of life's late afternoon he calmly and serenely sits beside his own hearthstone, secure in the affection of his youngest son his estimable wife, who resides with him. Let us hope that many more happy peaceful years may lie before these life-long old friends and neighbors, before they hear the keel grate on the shore.

PENNSYLVANIA EMPLOYEES RECEIVE INSTRUCTIONS.

Books Distributed to Men to Give Aid to Injured—"Keep Cool" One of the First Admonitions.

That any employee or passenger on the Pennsylvania railroad may receive immediate attention in case of sickness or accident, the company is extending its methods of giving instruction on "first aid to injured." To this end demonstrations are to be given to employees and a circular card has been prepared for distribution to employees at the lectures delivered by medical examiners of the company.

The printed instructions that will be distributed to all employees of the Pennsylvania railroad are entitled, "Hints on First Aid to Injured," "Keep Cool" is the first admonition. Employees are then advised to send for the nearest physicians after which the injured or ill person should be placed on a standard stretcher, a number of which are provided on cars, in stations, shops and other places. "Keep the crowd away" is the next heading on the circular, which also warns employees against touching open wounds with their hands.

THE 'WETS' GET BUSY IN BRAZIL

WOULD GET THE WITHDRAWAL OF NAMES ON OLD REMONSTRANCE, WHICH WERE SIGNED BY POWER OF ATTORNEY.

'DRYS', TOO, ARE WORKING

Today the "wet" forces began active work to get names from the old remonstrance now filed at the court house in order that the city can go "wet" when a new remonstrance has to be circulated. The persons signing the last remonstrance gave power of attorney which means that their names can be signed to a new remonstrance unless they withdraw them.

The petition has several score more than enough names to keep the city "dry", unless the "wets" can get enough names from the petition to make the temperance forces get busy and obtain more names. It is understood that the temperance forces will send a force into the field to counteract the work of the "wets" but if the "wets" are successful they will not circulate another petition for remonstrance, but will depend on the small unit option vote.—Brazil Times.

W. W. Jones is exhibiting quite a curiosity, in the form of peach, pear and apple blossoms, in the Jones & Stevens Drug store. However, the blossoms were not taken from trees in bloom, but are from buds taken from trees several weeks ago and kept in water since that time. The blossoms look like they might have been taken from blooming trees

TO HEAR LAMMERS CASE MARCH 30

DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST TRACTION COMPANY FILED HERE, TO BE HEARD IN CLAY COUNTY COURT, THIS MONTH

CAR COLLIDED WITH BUGGY

The suit of Mrs. Clara Lammers against the Traction Co., for damages, which was venue from the Putnam County Circuit Court to the Clay County Court will be heard in the Clay county court at Brazil on March 30. The case is the one in which Mrs. Lammers is suing for damages for personal injuries, receiving when an interurban car collided with a buggy, in which she was sitting, throwing her out.

Mrs. Lammers was driving on east Seminary street when she saw the car approaching. In order to avoid the car, Mrs. Lammers drove the horse in an alley just east of the residence of Ferd Lucas. When the car got close, the horse became frightened and backed the buggy from the alley back in front of the approaching car. The car was coming with such speed, that the motorman was unable to stop his car before it had crashed into the buggy.

BUTLER CO-EDS DANCE TOO LATE: SUSPENDED

Because they danced until about ten minutes after last Saturday night, in stead of stopping promptly at 12 o'clock, as required by a college regulation, sixteen Butler College Co-eds were suspended by the President, T. C. Howe Wednesday afternoon. All are active members of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Two seniors were suspended until next Tuesday and the others were forbidden to return until the Saturday following.

Members of the sorority say it was about 12:10 o'clock when they left the Woodruff Place clubhouse, where the dance was held, and that they returned to Irvington on the last regular East Washington street car, which leaves Illinois and Washington streets at 12:35 o'clock. They say they took the liberty to complete their program, as they were so nearly finished at midnight.—Indianapolis Star.

CHINA FAMINE RELIEF.

Famine reports from China continually intensify in urgency of appeal and grow blacker in description of the seriousness of the calamity. The estimates of those in danger of starvation have been putting the number at 1,000,000, which seems big enough, but Consul General Wilder of Shanghai cables that without relief 2,000,000 people in China will starve. He states that already the scenes in the famine district are horrifying, the dead lie unburied by the roadside, and the cold of a severe winter increases the misery of a hungry people.

Rev. E. C. Lobenstine, head of the Presbyterian mission at Hwai Yuen, at the very center of the famine district, emphasizes that relief is at once a humane duty and a Christian opportunity. He says: "The Chinese government is not likely to administer adequate relief in view of existing conditions of her finances and perhaps also of the heathen idea, not infrequently held by so-called Christians, that famines are a good way to reduce the population. The Christians of America have here a good opportunity to help. It is impossible for any sort of food crop to mature in the district itself before June. And besides money for food, they must for another month at least have fuel money, for the ground is scoured clean of all the dead grass and there is nothing else to burn in the territory.

In the judgment of workers it is far better to give money than to try to give supplies, even though the Seattle Commercial Club is engaging in the task of forwarding food by cargo. When money is given, it is cabled direct to Shanghai and can be spent in buying millet and bean cake from Manchuria, which of course will arrive in the needy territory sooner than wheat from America.

The following letter has been received by a local pastor, from the American Red Cross, of which President Taft is president:

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14 '11.

Dear Sir:—

Replying to your letter of the 9th instant would state that contributions of money for the Chinese famine sufferers will provide more prompt, and therefore more useful relief. This society cables all money contributions through the State Department to the American diplomatic officers at the Chinese capital.

Chas. M. Magee,

Secretary

The Ministerial Association of this city will cheerfully forward all money placed in its care for this worthy cause. Contributions for famine sufferers may be handed to any pastor, or to Rev. J. M. Rudy, treasurer of the association. Churches will doubtless make their own offerings, and individual citizens are invited to help.

NEW BUSINESS FOR THE TOWN, MAYBE

SHOOTING GALLERY STARTED ON NORTH SIDE OF SQUARE PROBABLY WILL CLOSE TOMORROW NIGHT—MISUNDERSTANDING ABOUT LICENSE.

OWNER BALKS AT PRICE

E. E. Tilson, of Indianapolis, got in bad Thursday night when he opened a shooting gallery in the George Sage room on the north side of the square, without a license. He was notified Friday morning by Marshal John to see the Mayor. When informed by the Mayor that he would have to pay a license of $50.00, Mr. Tilson stated that he probably would move his shooting gallery tomorrow morning. Tilson opened his place of business under a misunderstanding and for that reason the mayor gave him permission to continue running the gallery tomorrow without taking out a license. Several days ago, Tilson was here and asked the City Clerk if it was necessary for him to procure a license to operate a shooting gallery. The clerk was not sure, so Tilson opened the gallery Thursday night without a license. Later Marshal Johns found that the law required a $50.00 license and notified Tilson of it, and told him to see the mayor. The gallery was brought here from Danville.

The new horse purchased by the city for the fire department was given its first trial Friday afternoon. Together with one of the old horses it was harnessed to the heavy ladder wagon. One of the firemen made several runs with the team, to get the new horse used to the wagon and the noise of the bell. The horse has good speed and it is believed by the firemen that it will make a good fire horse.

ASK AID TO KEEP A FACTORY HERE

COMMERCIAL CLUB SENDS OUT LETTERS REQUESTING SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR BONUS TO GO TO THE KITCHEN CABINET CO.

WOULD SELL BONDS ALSO

A campaign has been begun by the Greencastle Commercial Club to raise some cash, to be given as a bonus, and to sell bonds for the Greencastle Kitchen Co., in order that the factory may be kept in Greencastle. The campaign was begun Friday when the following letters were mailed to the Greencastle business men:

"Without doubt the time has come when, unless prompt action is taken, the Greencastle Cabinet Company will remove their business from this city, as they have recently received flattering proposals from other cities to locate with them. They have agreed, however, with the Commercial Club to remain here and erect new and larger buildings on the railroads, provided the city will contribute a bonus and assist them in selling some bonds.

"They will obligate themselves to operate their factory not less than 250 days a year, and to employ not less than 40 hands for a period of not less than 10 years. In case of failure so to do so the company will refund to the Commercial Club $280.00 a year for each year they might fall short of the full ten (10) years.

"They will secure the Commercial Club by depositing with said Commercial Club a sufficient amount of Common Stock in the Greencastle Cabinet Company to cover the full amount of money paid in a bonus.

"The directors of the Commercial Club consider the proposition eminently fair, and know that in making this proposition the Cabinet Company is turning down exceedingly liberal offers from other cities.

"The pay roll of the Cabinet Company is about $30,000.00 a year, and if their growth during the past two years is a criterion for the future they will soon double their present capacity.

"This is a matter of vital interest to every citizen of Greencastle, as every such plant adds to the value, not only of our mercantile interests, but to our real estate, and in fact to the general business of the entire community. We cannot let this factory move away. Some member of the Commercial Club will call on you soon to find out.

DEVELOPS DARE-DEVILS

DRIVING AUTOS IN TRAFFIC MAKES GREAT RACE PILOTS.

Most of World's Motor Masters Have Originally Started as Chauffeurs in City Streets, Where Quick Action Is Required.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Where does the dare-devil automobile race pilot come from? This is the question asked by hundreds of the spectators who see the motor masters of today rush madly around the great road courses and speedways of the nation in quest of honor and gold.

The average race driver who is seen in the space annihilating monsters which career wildly over the tracks thinks no more of sending his steel steed along at the death-inviting pace than he would of driving a touring car through the city streets—in many cases not half so much. The fact of the matter is that two-thirds or more of the racing drivers of today were traffic drivers of yesterday.

The greatest drivers of today have been traffic and demonstration drivers. Louis Chevrolet drove traffic in New York City for five years; his brother Arthur did the same. Victor Hemery drove traffic in Germany many years before he raced a car. Ralph DePalma was a traffic driver in New York. "Wild Bob" Burman drove a demonstrating car for several years.

Most of these drivers and many others will compete in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes Race over the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, on Memorial Day, May 30 next. There have been nine entries made for the race thus far as follows: Lewis Strang, Louis Larssonneur and Joe Jaggersburger, in Case cars; C. B. Baldwin, in an Inter-State "50"; Johnny Aitken, in a National "40" 1911 Speedway model; Frank P. Fox, of Indianapolis, in a Pope-Hartford, and Louis Disbrow in the same make of car; Harry Knight, in a Westcott, the other entry being a Simplex, for which no driver has been named so far. It is possible that Ralph DePalma, the mile track champion of 1910, will pilot this last named car through the long grind.

WESCOTT ENTERS LONG RACE

Automobile Made at Richmond, Ind., to Try for Honors at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Indianapolis, Ind.—One of the entries which has been made in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes Race for $25,000 in gold, to be held on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Memorial Day, is a Westcott specially built car, with Harry Knight, one of the youngest speedway drivers in the business, nominated as the pilot. The big motor which the Westcott Company is building for this long race is identical in construction with the motor which is used in the Westcott stock cars, excepting that it is increased in size and horsepower. The smaller Westcott car that Knight has been driving has been a consistent performer in Speedway events of the past and has been especially successful in long races.

Although Knight did not drive in many events in the 1910 season, he piloted his small car through a free-for-all race of 100 miles, and finished second to Eddie Hearne in his big Benz. Later in the season Knight finished second in the Coca Cola Trophy race at Atlanta, losing that event by a margin of about twenty-two seconds. The young driver sent his car over the 100-mile distance at Atlanta in eighty-five minutes and thirty-two seconds. The Westcott car is manufactured at Richmond, Indiana, and entered the racing game only last season. It proved to be speedy and several times it has gone through the long grinds with a nonstop record to its credit.

AITKEN TO DRIVE ONCE MORE

Famous Auto Pilot Enters Sales Department for the National Company at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind.—"John D. Aitken, Automobile Salesman." That is the way the title of the famous National Motor Car racing pilot reads now. Business has lured the daring driver away from the wheel of the big blue machine. Aitken is now associated with Bruce M. Wylie, who has charge of the National branch in Indianapolis. Although Johnny is entered in the 500-mile $25,000 Sweepstakes Race on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway the forthcoming Decoration Day, nevertheless he is about done with the speed game, and did not accompany the National squad on their triumphant march up the Pacific Coast.

VANDERBILT WINNER TO RUN.

After twice winning the Vanderbilt Cup race, one of the hardest road race tests in the world, the famous Alco car driven by Harry Grant will be on the 1911 racing circuit. Probably the first appearance of Grant and his car will be in the $25,000 race of 500 miles at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Decoration Day.

SPEEDWAY STANDS SEAT 60,000.

One of the greatest seating capacities of any stadium in the world of sports is that of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Four monster stands seat fully 60,000 persons comfortably and under pressure will accommodate 75,000 spectators.

WHITE FACING GIVES WAY TO LACE ON HATS

With the coming of January the hats which were bought in the autumn or early winter are beginning to look shabby. The snow-storms or the rain have spotted the velvet or the satin and the average woman is beginning to look for a new one to last until the spring models arrive.

For this in-between wear nothing could be prettier than the new models of black and white, one of which is shown in the illustration. The narrow white facing close in under the crown has replaced the lace frills of the earlier winter, and is more generally becoming for the frills of Valenciennes required youth and charm to carry them off successfully.

The hats with the turned-up brims look well on most types of women, far more so than the small turbans which set so closely to the head, and they are much in favor now.

Some come in black satin with a facing of color, some are all of black with the tiny touch of color at the edge of the brim or close in about the hair, while many are all black, with just a cluster of white gardenias at one side.

Gardenias are, in fact, the most popular flower of the moment in the millinery world. They are expensive, to be sure, and are also prone to soil quickly, but they are undoubtedly one of the prettiest of the fads of the day, and their waxy whiteness shines out against the blackness of the modern hats in a very effective fashion.

While the majority of the hats now seen are of moderate sizes, the feminine heart still vacillates between very big hats and very small ones, and some charming models in both kinds are now seen.

The picture hat is still in favor for wear with elaborate toilettes, while for every day the winter girl goes to the other extreme, cramming the jaunty, boyish-looking small hats over her ears when she shops or walks. These sensible little velvet hats, almost devoid of trimming, jammed down on her head and her great shaggy looking polo coat wrapped around her, make the winter girl look as though she could defy wind and weather, and by the breezy, wholesome atmosphere she creates finds favor anew in man's eyes.

With the donning of a calling gown, however, the boyish hats must be laid aside, and if the gown is of velvet one of the new turbans to match edged with fur may now be worn.

or the hat of the earlier winter may be ripped apart, the crown covered with soft folds of chiffon, which may be pleated about the edge of the brim, and the whole finished with a bow of lace, to make a hat which will smack of the Rue de la Paux.

Another clever way to refurbish the old hat if a new one is not possible at the minute is to buy some narrow, dull gold braid and put a network of it over the crown. This will effectively hide all spots. The brim may then be faced up with a delicate shade of satin, and the whole be finished with a twist of fur and braid, or merely by the addition of two gardenias.

The question as to whether a bandeau should or should not be worn must be settled by the woman herself.

Some are wearing their hats well over their eyes, others wear them higher. It depends upon which is most becoming, for, after all, no hat that is unbecoming ever looks smart, no matter how up-to-date it may be.

A Smart Jabot.

A smart jabot can be made from a piece of nainsook six inches long and nine wide, and a top piece with the bottom cut in a sharp slope, to be six inches on the right side and two inches on the left, and nine inches wide.

Edge both pieces on sides and bottom with half-inch Valenciennes lace in a deep cream color.

Cats are being condemned as household pets. The common or backyard variety is surely a menace to peace and harmony. — Toledo Blade.

As to Thrift

When I was young, with little sense, I bought a whistle for fifteen cents. It was no use, it wouldn't blow, and yet I loved that whistle so that I refused to let it go.

When offered a quarter more, or so, Years have passed since that adventure.

Yet witnesseth it by this indurate That I did not much wiser grow, By experiences of long ago, For in trade's marts I am a fizzle; My life's a dark brown rainy drizzle.

I've often tried to lay by store Some plunks against "the wolf" to war, Yet it seems with all my zeal I'm poorer than a church mouse squeal.

For every time I get a dollar I buy bum stock in gold mines "yaller."

It filters through, I lose it all; I was not built for fortunes tall; I find that I must be content, And this world walk in and lament I have no head like Pierpont M., So I just write and cuss at him.

NEW LAMPS MADE IN ARTISTIC SHAPES

Popularity of Soft Light Continues In World of Women.

THE soft light of lamps is far prettier than gas, and no modern appliances of electricity can affect the popularity of the other light.

For that reason new lamps are always a point of interest to women.

Perhaps the most novel of these is one which is in the shape of a basket of bronze resting on a marble pedestal. The basket is filled with branches from the orange tree, with small oranges forming the lights.

The delicate bronze foliage with its fruit of brilliant orange nestling in the midst makes a handsome and artistic lamp.

Another floor or piano lamp, as it is sometimes called, rests on a column of carved wood, gilded. This is suitable for a Louis Quinze salon, but is, perhaps a little too ornate for the average drawing room.

The round shade is of delicate shell pink satin, with sprays of dainty blue forget-me-nots painted on the surface. A fringe of gold beads finishes the edge.

Bronze Lamp For Boudoir

For the boudoir there comes an artistic creation in bronze. Four uprights form a trellis, over which a vine is trailing, and the large bunches of grapes form the lights. A girl is daintily stepping through the arbor holding over her shoulders, on a pole of bronze, two more bunches of grapes.

The mission lamps, which sprang into popularity a couple of years ago, are being sold as much as ever. New designs are seen in the shades, one of the most novel being made in the form of a small bird house.

A straight piece of mission wood, about 10 inches high, forms the base, while on top rests a square little house, such as we see made for the birds, but it is made of glass, bound with strips of the wood. On either side, to give added light, are upright electric globes, over each of which there is a shade of glass and wood.

White Soup.

Procure one-quarter pound of sweet almonds, one-quarter pound of cold veal of poultry, a thick slice of stale bread, a piece of fresh lemon peel, one blade of mace, pounded; three-quarters pint of cream, the yolks of two eggs, two quarts of white stock. Reduce the almonds in a mortar to a paste, with a spoonful of water, and add to them the meat, which should be previously pounded with the bread. Beat all together and add the lemon peel, very finely chopped, and the mace. Pour the boiling stock on the whole, and simmer for an hour. Rub the eggs in the cream, put in the soup, bring it to a boil and serve immediately.

DAMP SHEETS MAY CAUSE BAD COLDS

Care Should Be Taken to Iron Them Thoroughly Dry.

Sheets which have not been ironed dry are sometimes the cause of an attack of rheumatism or a dangerous cold, but few housekeepers realize this.

Every housekeeper should insist that her bed linen be ironed until it is perfectly dry and then to insure further protection it should be hung on the clotheshorse before the fire for a short time.

Before the sheets are put on the bed they should be inspected to see that they are perfectly dry and if there is the least sign of dampness they should be aired for at least a half hour.

An elderly person, or indeed any one susceptible to colds may become dangerously ill from this cause. It is a wise precaution to place a hot water bag in the bed for a few minutes before retiring time and this is most necessary the first night after the sheets have been changed.

Aside from the effect on the health the bed linen may become mildewed if put away in a damp condition.

She Was Listening.

"I saw Johnson running to catch a car today," begins the gentle husband, during dinner. "He was—"

"Do you think we should have new burlap put on the hall walls?" the fond wife interrupts.

"And the street car whirled and hit him on the leg," continued the husband, calmly.

"But burlap doesn't look as well as some other things," she observes. A few moments later she asks:

"What in the world are you smiling about? What did Mr. Johnson say to you that was so funny?" — Chicago Post.

It is so hard for a girl to take a part in amateur theatricals without complaining because her folks won't let her go on the stage in a professional way, and make a lot of money,

Obituary.

Samuel Edmond Parks was born near Putnamville, Ind., September 19, 1819, and died at the family residence, in Salt Creek Township yesterday morning at 12:25 o'clock, having lived 91 years, four months and twenty-nine days. Twenty-six years ago this coming March Mr. Parks moved with his family from Putnamville, Putnam county, Ind., to Kansas and has resided continuously since that time at the farm home where he died.

Mr. Parks was probably one of the oldest if not the oldest man in Reno county. He has lived a life of honor, respected by everybody and was familiarly known as "Uncle Sam." He always had a kind word or a pleasant inquiry for all and no one even left his home without anything but the kindest of feeling for the man who had been their host. Several years ago when much anxiety was displayed by the family for his safety, coming through a severe case of sickness, he said to them, "do not fear, my life work is not done, I will recover all right," and he did recover.

But within the year last past he contended to a close friend. "My life work is ended, there is nothing more I can do, I am ready now." So this strong man who has lived twenty years longer than the usual three score and ten allotted to man; this neighbor who has been respected by everybody who knew him; this father who was loved and cherished came to the end.

Mr. Parks has been unusually well for one of his age during the past year and has recently been seen in this city on several occasions enjoying a ride in the family automobile, but on Monday last he complained and did not feel as well as

MODEL LICENSE LEAGUE MAN LIKES THE REGULATION BILL

Says Approval of Brewers Shows They Wish to Put Liquor Traffic on the Highest Level Possible.

T. M. Gilmore, of Louisville, president of the National Model License League, who is at the Dennison Hotel, likes the Proctor liquor regulation bill.

"The Proctor bill," said Mr. Gilmore, "is the best piece of legislation, in my opinion, ever offered for the purpose, to any legislative body in this country. If this bill becomes a law it will be an exhibition of fairness toward the saloon keeper that the saloon keeper is not accustomed to, but at the same time, it will insure obedience to the laws, let the details of the law be what they may."

"The feature which provides that a license must be renewed if the holder has conducted his place properly is advanced legislation of the very greatest importance. This provision and this alone will remove the saloon keeper from the political arena, because it will free him from the domination of the political boss. The license fees of $500 and $700 are the only features of the bill that I would criticize. I think these figures would be all right for a few places, but they are excessive so far as the average saloon is concerned, and they would be destructive to the little beer saloons in the outskirts of the cities which depends upon a neighborhood family trade."

"I think the smallest saloon keeper should be treated with as much fairness as the biggest factor in society and many of these men do not make over one thousand per annum."

"The provision in the Proctor bill, which prohibits the ownership of saloons by breweries, distillers, etc., I feel inclined to applaud, because it was a concession on the part of the brewers in this state to public sentiment and the demands of the press that I did not expect."

"The brewer naturally feels that he has as much right to establish retail places for the sale of his product as—say the manufacturer of shoes, and I think he is right, but the public does not believe in such ownership, and the brewers have bowed to the sentiment, in opposition to their own interests."

"The fact that this bill has the emphatic approval of the brewers of Indiana is to me a source of greatest satisfaction, because it proves conclusively that these men are in dead earnest about putting the liquor traffic on the highest possible level."

"This Proctor bill is a model license bill and it is the best piece of excise legislation ever offered in this country."

"If it adopted it will solve the liquor problem as far as law can solve that problem."—Indianapolis News, Feb. 22.
